

Rare Species in a Man's War

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

BIEN HOA, Viet Nam—(NEA)—Susan Boppell is a girl. She is also a Californian (Santa Cruz), a college graduate (Whittier) and a Red Cross worker.

But to the 200,000 GIs in Viet Nam, Susan Boppell is most importantly a girl. She's a rare species in this masculine war, a round-eyed, buha-buha, oh, you kid! She could have a date every evening and not run out of fresh faces until the year 2541.

When she slips into whatever it is women slip into, and walks through a bivouac area, the already tropical temperature rises to roughly that of the sun's surface.

My, myyyyyy! the GIs howl. Catch me, they shout, "I'm fainting." Hey, one will say to another, "you know what that is?" No, man, what? That's a girl! You sure? Sure, I'm sure. My brother wrote me about them once. What'd he say? Said they were warm and delicious and smelled good. Oh yeah. How do you know he wasn't talking about a hamburger?

Susan Boppell, of course, doesn't know this is going on or at least she says she doesn't. Anyway, it makes no difference because, up close, the 200,000 soldiers here treat what few Sue Boppells they have with courtesy and respect.

At least most of the time. Now and then, certainly, a chap will forget and cuss around a Red Cross worker. And there was the time several members of the 173rd Airborne Brigade charged Miss Boppell's barracks at 2 a.m.

But, for the most part, nobody monkeys around. And thank goodness for that, because Sue Boppell has enough worries.

There is the outdoor John, for instance. And that wooden-walled shower. Well, they are private enough, she supposes, but she wishes they were located a bit closer to the door of her living quarters.

Then there was that trooper they caught one day near the shower point. He had a wood drill in his hand. Said he was a carpenter.

The heat is another thing. A girl simply has a devil of a time keeping powder dry. A dab of lipstick is the only connection with make-up any more.

And the humidity. Tsk! How does she keep a curl? Oh, and as for that bombing that always keeps going on in the distance? Kept Sue Boppell up all hours when she first got here. She couldn't tell if the mortars were incoming or outgoing. And it didn't help at all when one of the fellas told her that she'd know the incoming ones by the holes in her roof.

And just about the time she started getting used to that, she took a helicopter ride into the field and one of those Viet Cong shot tracer bullets at her.

But there are compensations. Sometimes, for example, she gets to the shower before the sun goes down. It's a barrel-type affair and, after sitting out all day, the water runs warm at that hour.

Too, she saves a bit of money here. There's precious little to spend it on after all. And there is always plenty of fun. Her job is to organize hootenannies, dances, parties and bingo for the GIs.

Finally, of course, there are the GIs themselves. Where else can a girl be dated up to the year 2541?

Movie Crew vs. Townies

BY DICK KLEINER
Hollywood Correspondent
EL CENTRO, CALIF. (NEA)

There isn't much to do at night in El Centro. The cast and crew shooting "Tobruk" in the desert around here generally eat dinner—and there are two good restaurants in town—and then read and go to bed early.

For the swingers, there is El Oasis. This is a cocktail lounge and dance hall attached to the bowling alley. I sampled its basic joys with Guy Stockwell, who doesn't seem to need much sleep.

We were sitting at a table, watching the dancers, when a local bruiser in a red shirt came by. A few nights earlier, there had almost been a battle royal over some misunderstanding.

Now Red Shirt came by to apologize. He didn't know, he said, that these were movie stars. He was sorry.

"We've been having some problems in town," Stockwell said. "Some of the locals have been giving us some static, and there have been a few times when it almost got out of hand."

Now that seems to have been worked out. Red Shirt left. On the dance floor, some of the "Tobruk" company were dancing with local girls.

"They make out pretty good with the local girls," Stockwell said. "Or maybe that should be vice versa. This town has a lot of single girls—kids of 19 or 20 with one or two children. They're either divorced or never in a bureau drawer he had copies of my have been married. They like movie people."

TIMELY QUOTES

To say there is trouble in the United Nations is like saying there is sickness in a hospital.

—Lord Caradon, British delegate to the U.N.

Let's select a fish that can live comfortably in our polluted waterways. It certainly wouldn't do to select a fish that will be extinct in most of our rivers and streams in a few years.

—New Jersey Assemblyman David J. Friedland, calling for the catch to be made New Jersey's state fish.

A good union does not need the union shop and a bad one should not have one.

—Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., on the union shop.

THE BAND BLARED

And Stockwell talked about how he is irked at "actors who aren't actors."

"This profession," he said, "attracts a lot of people who are just in it for the money. They don't give a damn about acting."

Stockwell does. He always has. Every spare moment, when he's home in Hollywood, he devotes to the group he helped form, the Los Angeles Art Theater. They do the classics, mostly.

Stockwell, whose hair is dyed "tan blond" for this role, is under contract to Universal. His big break, he thinks, will be "Beau Geste," because he carries that picture. It is one of six films he's made in a row.

ANOTHER OF THE "TOBRUK" CAST is Nigel Green. He burst into prominence as the suave heavy in "The Ipcress File."

He expected him, after seeing that picture, to be middle-aged, slight, sophisticated. But he isn't—he's 41, big, burly, virile.

A character actor, Green says, "can do as much with make-up and posture and the way he walks as he can with his lines. In 'Ipcress,' I wore a little mustache and I took off 20 pounds and walked like a guardsman."

Green and I discovered we had a lot in common. Both his father and mine were professors of biochemistry. His father studied at Cambridge and took his graduate at Yale; mine studied at Yale and did graduate work at Cambridge.

Green's father wanted him to be a chemist, too. When he went into acting, they broke. And, despite Nigel's successes, they never reconciled.

"But," Green says, "when he died, I found in a bureau drawer he had copies of my reviews. That made me feel better."

No Backseat Driver She

By DAVE BURGIN

NEW YORK—(NEA)—You'll never catch Elizabeth Nystrom flapping a lovely arm out the car-door window to dry her nail polish in the breeze.

"That causes too much wind resistance," she said. Nor will you ever see her zipping away from an intersection when the light changes, or making left turns from the right-hand lane.

What you will see is a pretty blonde making fools out of men. "Now, wait a minute," she said. "That's only when it comes to driving. Otherwise I'm perfectly happy to let men keep their egos."

Miss Nystrom, 23, single, Swedish, is an economy-driving expert. Last year she was European Woman's Rally co-champion with England's Pat Moss Carlsson, sister of former road-racing champion Stirling Moss.

And for four months this year, Elizabeth will tour the United States to demonstrate the ins and outs of economy driving.

It won't be easy, Elizabeth was told. American males, whatever the rap against them as heads of the household, don't cotton to the idea that a woman might be a better driver.

"You think it's any different in Sweden?" she asked. "Or France? Or Germany? No, I'm used to it, but I can handle it O.K."

She can handle a car O.K. In her first test in this country, she matched her driving skills against an automotive editor's.

"He did very well, for a man," she said. He averaged 29.7 miles per gallon. Elizabeth averaged 36.1.

"Rats!" the guy said, and stormed off to write his story. Miss Nystrom will drive a Falcon in her demonstrations.

Said a Ford Motor Co. spokesman, "The most important thing we want to show is that intelligent, thoughtful driving can buy a lot of groceries every year, not to mention the safety factor."

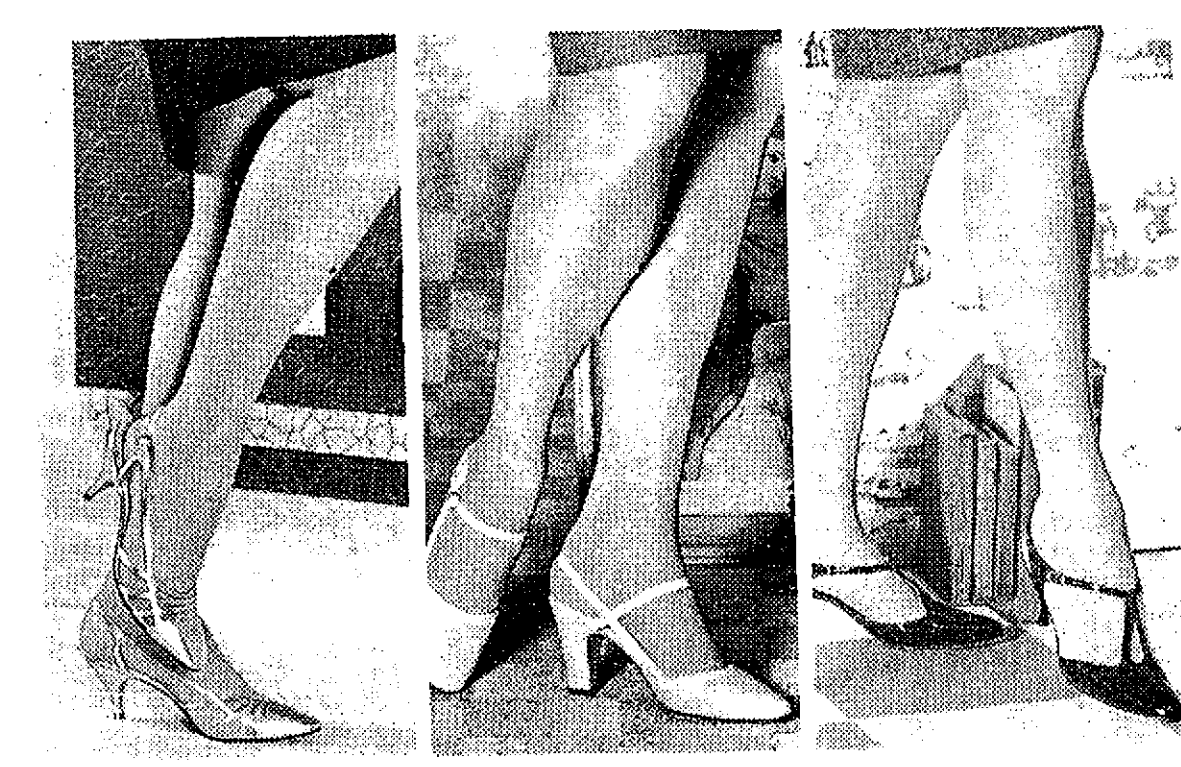

And what better way to dramatize it than with a shapey blonde behind the wheel? Men drivers might be upset, but at least they'll pay attention.

Elizabeth learned her driving from her father, Per Nystrom. He taught her the need to keep a car in top working order, how to drive in all kinds of weather with economy in mind, how to use the gears, the brakes and the clutch.

He also taught her about business, another subject on which Elizabeth probably could humble a few men. In Sweden, she is vice president of her father's oil company.

CLEAR STYER. Elizabeth Nystrom, economy driving expert from Sweden, gets the feel of an American car, before taking it for a spin.

Leather Footwear Bares Up

The strapped look will be an important part of the spring shoe scene for both day and evening. Strapped silver leather sandal (left) for evening glamor has new rounded, flattened toe. This is a Herbert Levine design. I. Miller combines the strapped look, new thick high heel and sling back (center) in beige and white. Fiances sets black patent leather cut-out T-strap with sling silhouette (right) on a mid-high slim heel.

by Helen Hennessy
Women's Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — This will be a strap-happy, round-toed spring as far as shoes go. Straps of every stripe decorate this season's leather footwear.

The newest are the diagonal straps that run from the vamp around the heel. But there are wide and skinny T-straps, straps crossing or below the instep and straps in a sling across the back. Even the old ankle strap is back.

Leather is "baring" up in other ways, too. Soft, pared-down and cut-away, the latest footwear fashions are delightfully daring.

For several seasons now we have been building up to this most feminine feeling in shoes and now, with leathers at their lightest and loveliest, shoe designers have provided a stunning collection of foot frippery.

Textures are provocatively used. Smooth, grained, sueded, brushed, patent, embossed and printed leathers all show at their best. And since leather breathes and flexes with the foot, the new footwear offers comfort to match its beauty.

In spite of all the news strap shoes are making for spring and summer, don't feel you will be left out in the fashion cold if you can't wear sandals or slings. The pump is far from past its prime. The shell-like silhouettes of the new pumps deliver the desired exposure.

For further dash, pumps are buckled, bowed, quilted—name your choice and you can have it.

DO-IT-YOURSELF Select the Best Method For Removing Old Finishes

BY MR. FIX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Refinishing or painting old furniture is a job most people feel quite capable of handling. It is relatively easy and can save you money as opposed to buying new items.

But before a new finish can be applied there is the job of removing the old. There are a number of ways to do this and not all are especially good. Basically the methods boil down to scraping off the old finish, sanding it or using a chemical paint and varnish remover.

Scraping is all right only for small surfaces. It is a simple method if there are just scattered sections of old finish to remove. If the area is large, or the amount of old finish is extensive, scraping is not practical. Scraping is done with a hook-type scraper which has a metal blade at right-angle to the handle.

Circular Sanders

Where appearance is important avoid circular disc sanders, the type used as attachments on electric drills. By appearance, I mean the appearance of the wood, something to consider under a clear finish but not so important under a layer of paint.

The circular disc sander cuts quickly and will gouge the wood unless handled carefully. It is useful on less delicate work, sanding the siding on a house or garage, for example.

For more careful power sanding use a belt sander or an orbital sander. The abrasive is held flat and moves parallel to the surface.

Easiest of all is the use of chemical remover. On curved surfaces it is just about the only way to remove the finish. The chemical remover, properly applied, softens the old finish so that it can be lifted off with a dull putty knife.

Newer Removers

The chemical removers have improved greatly in recent years. There now are chemical removers that are nonflammable. Since some are highly inflammable, read the label carefully and work in a well-ventilated area. If you must work indoors get the newer, safer type. Another advantage of most of the newer removers is that they need no neutralizing rinse with a solvent as the older types did. Apply the remover liberally with an old paint brush. Brush on heavy rather than brushing the same area several times. Allow to stand the recommended time, anywhere from five to 15 minutes, depending on individual instructions. Work on a small area and allow the remover to soak long enough so that you can remove the old finish with one application.

There are semipermanent removers that are ideal if you have to work on vertical surfaces since they do not run or drip. Since these do not evaporate as quickly as the liquid type you will have a little more time to work.

Mrs. Garrett Story and Mrs. Edwin Russell arrived in Hope Wednesday from Lexington, Kentucky. Mrs. Story has been spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Russell.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — If a television viewer expected to find out Tuesday night what happened to that great love affair Americans are alleged to have had for so long with France, he was doomed to disappointment. CBS' special, "Our Friends, the French," turned out to be a strange sort of patchwork which tried to combine a string of wisecracks, ironic remarks, an explanation of the balance of payments and gold reserves problems, the Common Market, Charles de Gaulle's ideology.

Eric Sevareid, narrating a script by Perry Wolff, suggested strongly that there had never been a love affair in the first place since France has hidden a disdain from America since the days of Ben Franklin and America has reciprocated. He conceded, however, that it was really hard to dislike France because Paris is so beautiful.

Anyway, he explained, our differences with the French are really nothing compared with the differences the French have among themselves.

The show ended on a sort of patriotic note. Somehow, Sevareid said, we Americans — or at least our business interests there — have helped build a solid middle class. This may be helpful after, as it was delicately put, De Gaulle "goes away" and the French must build a new government.

Brookwood P. T. A. Mrs. Minor Polk presided at Brookwood P. T. A. Wednesday afternoon in the school auditorium. A devotional by Mrs. Margaret Priest presented a musicale. Musical instruments consisted of bottles and glasses of water filled to different levels to make the sounds of the musical scale. One group was dressed as Hillbillies complete with goatees. By JAMES F. KING

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP) — When the Dutch think of monarchs they talk of queens. It comes naturally after 76 years of "petticoat reigns."

"She reminds me of her grandmother," said the old Dutchman in talking about Crown Princess Beatrix and her marriage Thursday to a former German diplomat, Claus von Amsberg.

Beatrix is in line to inherit the throne in a series of queenships that began with Queen Emma's regency for Wilhelmina in 1890.

Grandmother Wilhelmina was described by Winston Churchill during World War II as the only "man" in the Dutch government in exile in London. This praise came when she fired wavering Premier Jan de Geer in the fight against the Nazis.

On another occasion Churchill called the stout-hearted queen the bravest king in exile.

The royal Dutch patriarchy has served as a symbol of unity to an individualistic, independent-minded people sharply divided over the centuries into many political and religious denominations.

The Dutch queens — and Crown Princess Beatrix — have shown a determination along with womanly wile in getting their own way with Parliaments dominated by men.

Wilhelmina, on ascending to the throne in 1898, said she was "ready to accept the splendid but weighty task."

Her engagement two years later to Duke Henry of Mecklenburg-Schwerin raised concern among the Dutch people mistrustful of foreign influences. She won them over.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

On Pierced Ears Dear Helen: You won't print this but here goes. I'm a mother of 28. (Years) I had my ears pierced when I was eight years old and they still are. My five-year-old daughter just begged me to pierce her ears. I said: No until she tried to do it herself. We had her ears pierced Christmas. She now is wearing tiny little silver earrings which I paid $5.00 for. Now what is wrong with that?

By the way, her grandma did the piercing with the new "sleepers rings" and there is no need. — Shirley

Dear Readers: To forestall a lot of letters, I'll tell you right now I'm so out of touch I don't even know what a "sleepers ring" is, and frankly I'm not interested enough to find out.

As I've said before, there's nothing WRONG with pierced ears, just as there's nothing wrong with wearing a ring in your nose. They're just not for me, that's all. — H.

Dear Helen: Maybe some of your readers could help me. Our five-year-old takes an hour to dress in the mornings and to change clothes after kindergarten.

How can you speed up a "poke along?" spankings fail, words fail. As working parents we have no time for this delay. — A.S.

Dear A: My long-shot guess is that your last sentence is also your answer. Your child perhaps sees her working parents as people who are always leaving her. So she tries to delay you by dawdling. The more you prod, the balkier she gets; the more in a hurry you are, the slower she becomes.

Why not try a new system? Get up a half-hour earlier, help her get dressed, and then spend the extra time reading her a story or just visiting with her. Same in the evening — make changing into her play clothes important because she has something to anticipate... something she MIGHT miss if she poked. She'll outgrow this stage with a little good-natured assistance and a lot of no-pushing. — H.

Dear Helen: How ABOUT this? Do you suppose kids are getting some sense? I actually saw a teenager with a butch haircut the other day! — Happily surprised

Dear Hap: Boy or girl? — H.

Your Helping Hand Department Dear Helen: We are completely surrounded by beautiful card, letters, magazines, travel guide and are enjoying them all very much. Helen I wish you could see all the wonderful rememberances we've received from every State and 19 foreign countries — over 1,500 cards and letters, and they're still coming! When you told your readers my invalid husband and I could only travel "second-hand" they really brought the world right into our living room! Thank you, thank you, thank you, — everybody. — Mr. and Mrs. George E. Myers, Box 114, Turnellton, W. Va.

Dear Readers: Again, thanks for your kindnesses. Mr. and Mrs. Myers express the feeling of all who receive your letters — and they all are very grateful though many are unable to answer their mail. — H.

White Team Wins Little League Title

The steady and consistent Coon Cats (White Team), coached by John Henley and Danny Turner took the 1966 Little League Basketball Title with a record of 5 wins and 1 loss. Team members are Doug Archer, Tommy Miller, Randy Wright, Parker Powell, Jimmy and Jerry Pruden, John Spraggins, Perry Henley, Alan Foster, Randy Foster and Ricky Brown.

The Dirt Dobbers, finished at 4 and 2 and red hot and the season's end, were second. This team would have been rough with another round robin. The Red Team was coached by Dennis Turner.

The Hot Rods, coached by Larry Wright and Mike Westbrook, finished at 2 and 4 in third place, but were seldom easy, with three of their four losses being by 4 points or less. The Bo-Diddies, young and inexperienced, finished fourth at 1 and 5, but no team took them for granted. They knocked the Reds out of the league title on Feb. 5th with an amazing second half comeback to win 28 to 24, and they almost threw the league into a first place tie in the last game before losing to the Whites 30 to 29. Watch for this team in 1967, they'll grow.

Honorable mention should be made for all the high school coaches that worked with these youngsters throughout the season without an indoor court to practice on and the weather being what it was this Jan. and Feb., it's amazing what progress these kids made, playing only a 6 game schedule. Would it not be great if these youngsters had a gymnasium of their own, where they could play strictly with their own age groups, play at least twice a week and practice anytime they wanted to. It's something for anyone with children to think about.

Thanks also go to Larry Massanelli, Ronnie Brown, Eddie White, Lee Ponder and all the other kids that helped with the program throughout the year.

Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons Dies at 91

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—James E. (Sunny Jim) Fitzsimmons, 91, the grand old man of American horse racing, died today at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, his grandson said.

Bob Carr, the grandson, said Fitzsimmons had entered the hospital last Saturday for a physical examination.

John Fitzsimmons, a son, said, "He wanted to go to the tracks here this season but he never made it."

Known affectionately as "Mr. Fitz" of "Sunny Jim," Fitzsimmons had devoted more than 75 years to riding and training horses. He saddled winners everywhere from the half-mile tracks on the "leaky roof" circuit, where he sometimes went without a meal to see that his horses were fed, to the "Big A" duet track in New York.

EAST LANSING, MICH.—(NEA)—Duffy Daugherty, the Michigan State football coach, installed a pool table in his home and immediately was besieged with questions.

"It's mainly for my kids," Duffy explained. "I want them to have the same start in life that I did."

Harrison Has No Trouble With Bucks

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Smackover's Buckaroos made one mistake Thursday night when they met Harrison, the state's top ranked team, in quarterfinals of the Class AA state basketball tournament.

Smackover took a 3-1 lead to start the game. By the game's end Harrison had made it a 60-33 runaway.

The Gobblins advanced to the semifinals against Searcy at 8:30 tonight and Mountain Home meets Paragould at 1:30 p.m.

Mountain Home came from behind for a 57-56 victory over Leachville and Searcy bounced Warren 58-43 in other quarterfinal games Thursday.

Harrison, 34-0 for the season, took over at 5-3 and Smackover was out of the game. By the half it was 28-18, and Harrison played its substitutes after attaining a 50-23 lead.

Lendel Thomas put in 15 points for the Gobblins, and Larry Terry added 13. Smackover's top man was Mike Holloway with 12.

Searcy showed Warren a tough man-to-man defense, sparked by Whit Fowlkes. He held Randall Herring, who scored 32 points in Warren's first tournament game, to seven points, all from the free throw line.

Liles Henry dumped in 18 points for Searcy, and Richard Neu helped the winners with 14. Bill Wisener led Warren with 17.

Mountain Home, the AA tournament favorite but for Harrison, found that Leachville had no intention of leaving the championship race.

The Bombers, 31-3 and beaten in Arkansas only by Harrison, led most of the way by close margins.

But Leachville's Tommy Robins scored 20 of his 23 points in the last half and put his team ahead 54-53 with 1:17 to play.

Vernie Harris put Mountain Home back in front, 55-54, and Danny Keeter made it 57-54 on a pair of free shots with 15 seconds left. Robins hit a layup to cut the winning margin to one.

Harris led the Bombers with 19 points and Keeter got 12.

Dobbers End Season With a Victory

In the final 2 games of Little League Basketball play for this season, in preliminary to the Bobcat games the Dirt Dobbers, the red hot Red team, clobbered the Hot Rods 49 to 16 to set an all time scoring record for Little League play, since its beginning some 10 years ago. This lopsided score should take nothing away from the Hot Rods, since Little League teams just aren't supposed to hit that good and in their last meeting, the Hot Rods battered them right down to the wire before dropping a 33 to 32 decision to the new scoring champions.

In their grand finale, Doug Rogers popped in 15 points for the winners with Ronnie Massanelli close behind with 14. Gary Jones, always tough on the boards and Ricky Lumpkin, another tough rebounder, scored 8 each, with Randy Tullis racking up 4. Other players contributing to the Red Team's success were Mike Waters, Ralph Horridge, Tim Maroon and Harold Ross. For the Hot Rods, David Still and Billy Stroupe had 6 each and Charles Ratliff had 4. Other and younger members of the Green Team are Tommy Frazier, Tim White, Skipper Warren, Jack Turner, Steve Caldwell, Marcus Moss, Tommy Holt, Scott Gunter, Donnie Stroupe, David Huddleston, Dick Overturf and Phil Butler.

In the other final game played Saturday morning, the Cool Cats sewed up the league championship with a very hard earned 30 to 29 win over the stubborn Bo-Diddies. For the winners and League leaders, with a 5 and 1 record, Parker Powell scored 9, Randy Wright 7, Jim Pruden and John Spraggins 6 each and Tommy Miller 2. Others on the White Team are Jerry Pruden, Doug Archer, Perry Henley, Jr., Randy Foster, Alan Foster and Ricky Brown. Buddy Ingram was high for the Blue Team with 14. Phil Watkins had 7, Joe Pouse 4 and Troy Bishop and other Blue Team members are Randy Byers, Calvin Willis, Mike Newton, Mike Trent, Steve Achley, Wade Harris, Mike Middlebrooks and David Baker. Pouse and Spraggins were exceptionally tough on the boards, with plenty of help from the Pruden boys and Phil Watkins.

In breaking the all time high scoring record, the Dirt Dobbers displaced another Red Team composed of eventual excellent Bobcat athletes, who played Little League some 7 years ago. The old record holders consisted of Jack Caldwell, Vince Foster, Jr., Mike Peace, Mac McLarty, Jackie Lloyd, Bill Reinhardt, Tony Purtle, Roy Wray, Kenny Huckabe and Ricky Butler. Their Coach was Johnny Graves.

Tourney Road Starts Tonight for Cage Teams

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Cazzie Russell, Michigan's college basketball player of the year, starts tonight on the road he hopes will reach his one remaining goal in the college sport. He never has played on a national championship team and this is his last chance.

The two-time All-America has sparked Michigan to three straight Big Ten titles. He leads the Wolverines against dangerous Western Kentucky, the Ohio Valley Conference champs, in the Midwest regionals at Iowa City, Iowa.

The NCAA championship tournament enters its second round with eight games at four regional sites.

Meantime, the NIT opened in New York Thursday night with Temple beating Virginia Tech 88-73 and NYU edging De Paul 68-65. Southern Illinois and Kentucky Wesleyan reached the final of the NCAA small-college tourney while Central State of Ohio, the defending champion, was eliminated in the quarterfinals of the NAIA.

In his sophomore year, Russell led Michigan to a third-place finish in the NCAA and to second place behind UCLA last season. Another notch upwards this year and Russell will reach his goal.

The nationally top-ranked Kentucky Wildcats battle the Dayton Flyers in the first game of the Midwest regionals at Iowa City.

The second-ranked Duke Blue Devils oppose the fifth-ranked St. Joseph's Hawks of Philadelphia in another attractive doubleheader in the East regionals at Raleigh, N.C. Davidson and Syracuse also meet at Raleigh.

Third-ranked Texas Western meets Cincinnati, the Missouri Valley Conference titlists, and Kansas, the Big Eight champs, tangle with Southern Methodist, the Southwest Conference champs, in the Midwest regionals at Lubbock, Tex.

Rounding out the NCAA program is the Far West regional at Los Angeles. Oregon State, the PAC champs, go against the Houston Cougars after U. of Pacific, the WCAC titlist, plays Utah's Redskins, who won the WAC crown.

Clarence Brookins, with 29, and Jim Williams, with 24, combined for 53 points — 36 in the first half — to lead Temple over Virginia Tech in the first round of the NIT at Madison Square Garden in New York. Richie Dyer's three free throws in the last two minutes accounted for NYU's margin over the De Paul Blue Demons.

Temple next plays top-seeded Brigham Young and NYU meets second-seeded Wichita in quarter-final games on Monday night.

Southern Illinois downed North Dakota 69-61 and Kentucky Wesleyan routed Akron 105-75 in gaining tonight's championship game in the NCAA small-college tourney at Evansville, Ind.

Norfolk State knocked out Central State of Ohio 87-76 in the NAIA quarter-finals at Kansas City. Grambling edged Rockhurst 84-82, Oklahoma Baptist whipped Carson Newman 87-62 and Georgia Southern whacked Illinois Wesleyan 96-72 in the other games.

Grambling meets Oklahoma Baptist and Georgia Southern plays Norfolk State in the NAIA semifinals tonight.

Reginald Heber's missionary hymn, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains," is said to have been translated into more languages than any other hymn.

Penn State 'Sweeps' Past

By SANDY PADWE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa.—(NEA)—When the student managers forgot about practices, Penn State basketball coach John Egl would shrug his shoulders, head for the maintenance office and come back with one of those big push-brooms.

Then he'd spend the next 10 or 15 minutes sweeping the Penn State field house floor which usually was covered with resin, tape and anything else the gymnastics team had left behind.

Visitors to a Penn State basketball practice would stand there astonished as they watched the 6-4, 250 pounder with the little cigar jutting from the corner of his smiling face.

John Egl always laughed, publicly at least, because in his situation there was little else to do.

Until recently, basketball was the forgotten sport at Penn State.

There were a minimum of home games, there were a few scholarships for players, there were road trips in station wagons and there was Egl sweeping the floor.

When the basketball team did play at home, the game would be the second half of a wrestling or gymnastics doubleheader.

The place would be full for the wrestling or gymnastics matches but would empty out as soon as the basketball team appeared.

"It got so bad," said one ex-player, "that I actually looked forward to the road games."

When the embarrassment on the road became acute (30-point losses to teams like Duke, North Carolina State and West Virginia), the administration decided to act.

Besides, they were expanding the field house, so they gave Egl the scholarships needed to compete as a major basketball school.

And John Egl produced, just as he had promised if given the chance.

In the last four years, his teams have compiled a 69-21 record. Last season the Nittany Lions made the NCAA tournament and this year, with an 18-5 record, will compete in the National Invitation Tournament.

We could use a little more

LONG VIEW—Washington's Frank Howard knocks the dirt from his spikes before batting practice at the Senator training base in Pompano Beach, Fla.

No Exit

EAST LANSING, MICH.—(NEA)—Michigan State was practicing on a Friday afternoon before a game with Notre Dame in South Bend.

On the field, Duffy Daugherty was warning his team they had better be prepared. "Terry Brennan," Daugherty said, "is dragging up the ghost of every football hero Notre Dame ever had. You'll be playing the Four Horsemen and maybe even George Gipp."

Clarence Peaks, then the Spartan fullback, laughed. "Look here, Peaks," Daugherty growled. "I'm not kidding. Tell me, are you gonna let George Gipp tackle you today?"

"Coach," Peaks replied, pointing at a spot in the grandstand, "if George Gipp comes into this stadium—that exit is mine."

Give and Take

ST. LOUIS—(NEA)—Clyde Lovellette, the former NBA center, never was known for his defensive efforts.

So when he scored his 10,000th point, his St. Louis Hawks teammates decided to have a presentation.

Coach Paul Seymour (now with Baltimore) presided. "Here it is, Clyde," Seymour said, "a trophy commemorating your 25,000 points—the 10,000 you scored, and the 15,000 you gave up."

Check-Out

DENVER — (NEA)—Abner Haynes, the explosive half-back of the Denver Broncos, was asked if his feats made him vulnerable to a swelled head.

"No," replied Abner, "not before I talk it over with the guards."

Jet-Setter Arnie

Now it's Oscar Robertson who talks about feeling old, at the spry young age of 27, and quitting the grind of pro basketball. "It's a very demanding sport," says the Big O, who demands and gets around $75,000 a year for playing with the Cincinnati Royals.

Fatigue is also on the mind of Arnold Palmer, who bought his new jet plane for three-quarters of a million "because you get so daggone tired flying around without pressurization."

Nice altitude if you can get it.

Arnie now sports a pin in his lapel which rates him as Jet Commander, and he has logged over 2,000 air miles flitting around from tournament to tournament. The jet has dropped so much of a load off his mind that he has adopted a more upright putting stance, which he credits for his good start on the tour in '66.

"The 62 1 shot in L.A.," admits Arnie, "was one of the best putting rounds I've ever had."

But talking to him is like talking to a corporate enterprise, as he spels off his different businesses. Made a guy wonder, listening to him, how much Palmer is worth an hour.

"McCormick," shrugged Arnie, "will answer that one." Lawyer Mark McCormick is the brains behind the business.

The dominance of the National League over the American League in baseball extends even to stadia. Within the next couple of years, seven of the 10 NL teams will be residing in modern, mid-century stadia: Los Angeles, San Francisco, Atlanta, New York Mets, Houston, Pittsburgh and St. Louis.

With a good chance Cincinnati and Philadelphia will shortly join the roster, leaving only the Cubs stuck in old Wrigley Field. Meanwhile, only three American League teams have the pleasure of playing in new surroundings: Washington, Minnesota and the California Angels.

Cookie Gilchrist of the Denver Broncos must have one of the most unique contracts in sports. It says that the team cannot impose a curfew on his nocturnal meanderings.

When pro football's ambassadors to Viet Nam, Frank Gifford, John Umlas, Willie Davis and Sam Huff, visited the aircraft carrier Ranger in the South China Sea off Da Nang, an Air Force Sky Raider pilot gave them a letter to take back to his brother. He was Lt. John Anderson, and his brother Donnie is the newest and highest priced talent among the pros.

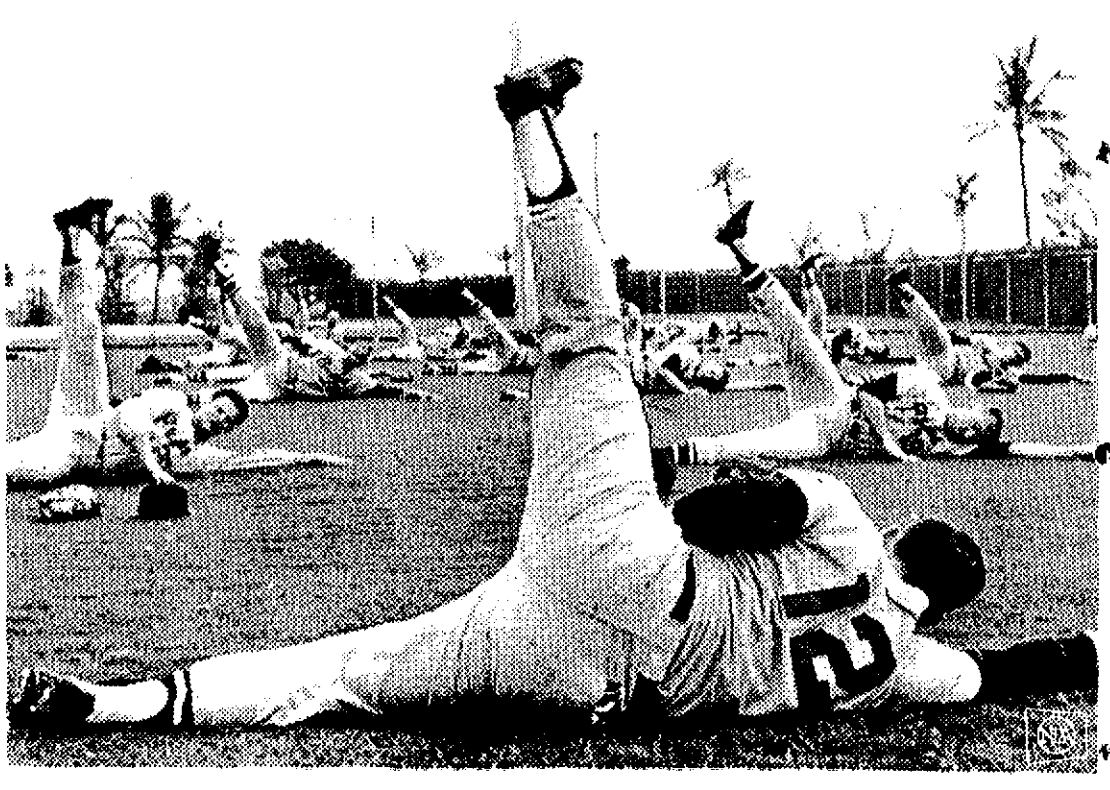

Al Ward moved from his job as publicity director of the American Football League to his native Texas as the publicist of the Dallas Cowboys of the rival NFL.

"Now," pronounced commissioner Pete Rozelle, "he's a good man."

The strange thing about Wilt Chamberlain's ineptitude at the foul line is that when Red Auerbach had the Big Dipper as a precollege kid in summer basketball at Kutztown, Pa., Wilt regularly dropped 75 to 80 percent of his foul shots.

And carried the same percentage through high school. As a pro he's lucky to get it over 50 percent. But the two free throws he sank to propel the 76ers into first place over the Boston Celtics could be the most important points he made in his career.

Between you'n'me, everybody knocks young heavyweight Jerry Quarry on size. . . but he's taller and heavier right now than Rocky Marciano was in his best days.

GETTING THEIR KICKS—Calisthenics is part of the daily routine at the Braves training camp in West Palm Beach, Fla. At least, the Braves have a definite spring home.

depth," Egli said, "but why complain about something like that? We're just glad to be in the NIT. A few years ago we didn't think about it."

Penn State's leading scorer and rebounder is Carver Clinton, a 6-4 forward, who averages 18.6 points and 10.3 rebounds per game.

"He's the boy with the two last names," Egli said. "We also have Paul Mickey, the boy with the two first names."

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG
Proper Drugs Can Curb
The Seizures of Epilepsy
BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Are you born with epilepsy or can it be caused by an injury?
A—Both. The cause of diopathic epilepsy is unknown but in many victims heredity appears to play a part. Symptomatic epilepsy may be caused by an injury to the brain, a brain tumor or an infection involving the brain.

Q—Is any medical research being centered on finding a cure for epilepsy? What are the chances that a cure will be found?
A—The American Epilepsy
Society (330 Ninth Ave., Salt Lake City 3, Utah), The Epilepsy Foundation (1729 F St.
N.W., Washington 6, D.C.) and
The National Epilepsy League
(208 N. Wells St., Chicago, Ill.
60606) are voluntary health organizations that promote general education regarding this disease and support various research projects.

Although no permanent cure has been found there are several drugs which, taken in the proper dosage for the individual epileptic, will effectively control the seizures in a large portion of cases. You must remember, however, that epilepsy is not a single disease but a group of diseases with many causes and no one treatment can be applied to all.

Q—Can convulsive seizures with amnesia or syncope with amnesia be caused by an emotional upset when brain wave tests fail to show any evidence of epilepsy and treatment with an anticonvulsant (Dilantin) has not been effective?

A—Convulsions or fainting, with or without a loss of memory for the period covered by the attack, may be caused by hysteria which is essentially a disorder of the emotions. The pattern of such convulsions is quite different from that of epilepsy; the brain wave findings are different, and the drugs used to control epilepsy would be of no value.

Q—If you had convulsions when 2 years old and have had none since, would they be likely to come back at the age of 60?
A—Anyone may get a convulsive disease at any time but, if there had been an interval of 58 years, the cause of the two episodes would be entirely unrelated.

Q—If a person develops diabetic retinitis and is losing his sight, can the eye of a person who has just died be transplanted to restore sight to the diabetic?

A—No. So far only a clouded cornea—not a whole eye—can be transplanted.

Q—What would cause my fingers to get numb and the corners of my mouth to get sore?
A—Pericious anemia is a good bet but a vitamin deficiency should also be considered.

There are some plays that an expert makes automatically. A good player makes after study and most players make by accident, if at all. Six no-trump is a reasonable contract but the correct play of the South hand is the same whether you are in six no-trump, seven no-trump or one no-trump.

Furthermore, if you play the hand correctly you will make all 13 tricks due to the fact that East holds the king of hearts and the king and jack of diamonds and that the clubs break three-two.

You need as many entries to dummy as possible and the key play comes at trick two when you must lead either the eight or nine of clubs to dummy's queen or jack. Don't be careless and lead the deuce of clubs! Don't be smart and win the first club with dummy's ace.

Now you lead a red card and finesse. You should try the hearts first because you have only one finesse there.

It works and you go back to dummy by leading your remaining intermediate club to dummy's queen or jack. Then you repeat the heart finesse and go back to dummy again by leading the king of clubs and overtaking with the ace. You can afford this extravagance since both opponents followed to the second club.

Now you lead a diamond and because you still have an entry to dummy you finesse the ten. This holds so you enter dummy for the fourth and last time with the four of clubs, and finesse the queen of diamonds, smile happily and may even say: "Partner, why don't you bid these lay-down grand slams!"

Plant Boom Brings Chill to Wall Street

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The rush of corporations to announce a spending boom for new plants and equipment cheered Wall Street at first but now chills it. And President Johnson has stepped in to try to calm fears that American industry may repeat its performance of 10 years ago.

In the mid-1950s industry rushed to build up its production capacity in the midst of an era of economic expansion. This spending helped give a push to the business boom. But industry was left with capacity in excess of demand. And its overheating of the economy was one of the reasons given for the recession that followed.

Only in recent months has the economy grown enough to take up all the slack of idle plants.

It is this growth which businessmen cite as making conditions different this time. They say that the economy is now close to full use of its resources. Hence the larger capacity they plan is badly needed if consumer demand is to be met without undue upward pressure on prices because of a shortage of goods.

Then why is a seeming boom to economic growth getting a critical eye?

The immediate worry — in the stock market, among business economists, and in official Washington as well — is that a big spending spree this year, added to greater outlays for the Viet Nam War, could overheat the economy. The result of that could be frist inflation, and then a bust. This has happened before. But this time government economists think the danger can be averted.

The President says that some estimates of how much more that business men plan to spend this year are too high. He thinks the economy could take in stride the amount the government estimates businessmen will spend. This is about 16 per cent more than last year's record $51.8 billion. The gain in 1965 over 1964 was at about the same rate.

Private estimates in recent days have put the over-all expansion spending at 19 per cent above last year, with manufacturers expecting their outlays to rise by 32 per cent.

This would stimulate the economy in many ways. It would increase the demand for materials and for labor. Outlays for these would furnish dollars that the lucky recipients would spend — for materials for themselves, for consumer goods. The result could be a scramble for scarce goods — and a quick rise in prices.

A 19 per cent jump in business spending would throw quite a few logs into the fire under the economic pot.

That is why the President is trying to calm down the apprehension. And it is a problem that will be debated more in the days ahead.

$226,880 Loan to DeQueen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Sevier County Industrial Development Corp. has been awarded a 15-year loan for $226,880 to assist the Rubber Corporation of America in an expansion project at De Queen, Ark.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., who announced the approval, said the plant will add buildings and buy machinery and equipment.

Lakes Shipping to Be Resumed

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Most Great Lakes shipping will resume during the first half of April, says an optimistic report on ice conditions made to the Lake Carriers Association.

A Coast Guard representative said there was less ice on the lakes than a year ago. The first vessel may get under way as early as this week.

Delinquents Being Used as Guinea Pigs

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAT

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a drab, institutional building at the crest of a steep hill commanding the capital city, young delinquents are playing guinea pig for a novel experiment in the psychology of success.

Unlike most reform school inmates, these fellows are free to lay in bed all day, shoot pool (if they have the money) or goof off at will.

But they don't. The psychologists have taken Jefferson Hall at the National Training School for Boys and transformed it into a microcosm of the outside world — where achievement pays off.

For nearly every act of their waking day, the 18 boys — mostly young car thieves — in this federal institution are given points. For each point, they are paid a penny.

Unlike the 200 or so other lads at the reform school, they pay for their rooms, which are private. They pay for their food, their toiletries, their recreation, their books, their decorations, their clothing.

And with staff members of the Institute for Behavioral Research watching carefully, the boys are studying hard, working in their spare time, shooting for "success."

The experiment is being governed by a simple psychological premise that rewards stimulate achievement and success.

Financed by grants from the Departments of Justice and Health, Education and Welfare, the experiment was launched in the hopes it would develop a curriculum that might be applied to other penal institutions.

"In a sense, Jefferson Hall is a greenhouse," said Harold L. Cohen, director of the experiment. "The training school boy comes from an environment in which the choices of activity were limited and the motivation very low. As a result, many chose the only path open to them — antisocial behavior."

Mobs Still Rioting in Calcutta

By CONRAD FINK

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Police and rioting mobs clashed for the second consecutive day today in Calcutta suburbs. At least seven rioters were shot and wounded.

With at least 15 persons dead from Thursday's clashes, Communist and other leftist political parties called for new food demonstrations against the government in Calcutta and in surrounding West Bengal State.

The new violence erupted after a leftist-inspired 24-hour general strike was due to end.

"There will be no rest until the people's demands are met," said the united left front of 10 political parties that led the strike.

The front declared that the rice ration in the Calcutta area was political and demanded a judicial inquiry into police firing that killed some demonstrators.

The death toll Thursday, which probably is incomplete, included 14 demonstrators killed by police bullets and one police constable beaten to death by a mob.

Indian army units, rushed to Calcutta earlier in the week, opened fire Thursday night as mobs ran wild in attacks on railroad stations, trains, police stations and vehicles. Some mobs were estimated to be as large as 10,000.

Drivers Test Compulsory for Youths

EDITOR'S NOTE—Highway accidents cause death and suffering throughout the nation. President Johnson has recently called for steps to halt the annual massacre. The following AP Special Report spotlights some states which have good accident records and one which has a bad one.

By EDWARD D. JACKS Jr.
PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—A compulsory driver training course for all teen-agers seeking licenses may be one reason for Rhode Island's consistently good safety record.

What police call preventative patrolling is another. And the fact that the tiny state has few miles of high-speed expressways may be a third.

Rhode Island, along with Connecticut, had 2.6 deaths for every million miles of vehicle travel in 1964, the lowest of any state.

An official of the governor's council on highway safety once said the accident rate is low partly because half of the state is heavily urbanized.

Rural roads have few long, monotonous stretches where drivers' minds are likely to wander. And few out-of-state motorists come speeding through.

Rhode Island is one of the few states that requires driver training for those under 18. A free, 30-hour classroom course is sponsored by the Registry of Motor Vehicles. Minimum driving age is 16.

Registrar James F. Williamson says several schools support the registry program with an additional six hours of behind-the-wheel training.

Col. Howard A. Franklin, chief of police in Providence, stations police cars at intersections where there are accident histories.

"Often the cars' flashing red lights are turned on while the patrolmen stand beside their cars," Franklin said. "People who know they're being watched tend to keep a closer check on their driving."

Since state troopers took over policing of the interstate highway system at the beginning of the year, more than 2,000 motorists have been stopped and warned. About 350 more have been ticketed.

Pair Ready for a Stroll in Space

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aeronautics Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — "This is an extremely full flight plan, and therefore many things might not be done."

Flight Director Christopher Kraft was discussing next week's action-packed Gemini 8 mission during which astronauts Neil A. Armstrong, a civilian, and David R. Scott, an Air Force major, are to latch their space ship to another satellite and Scott is to stroll in space for 2 hours, 40 minutes.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported in detail Thursday the plans for the three-day trip in which the astronauts will be busier than any previous U.S. spacemen.

Highlights will be the chase of an Agena satellite over a 105,000-mile course; four separate linkups with the Agena, and the space walk during which Scott will float on a 100-foot tether practicing maneuvers and seeing how well he can perform in weightlessness as a photographer, space mechanic, star gazer and collector of scientific data.

In an interview, Kraft said: "The flight plan is essentially a flight request, and the pilots will do what they can in the time allotted. It's doubtful they can do all the things laid on. It will be a flight of real time decisions."

Kraft said the astronauts were given many tasks because "in Gemini we hope to gain as much space operational experience as possible on all flights."

Big Trouble for Sukarno in Indonesia

By JOHN CANTWELL

SINGAPORE (AP) — Troops and armored cars cordoned off Indonesian President Sukarno's palace in Jakarta today as Sukarno conferred with top officials of his government on the grave crisis facing him, the Malaysian government radio reported.

The report broadcast from Kuala Lumpur did not elaborate. But sources in Singapore in close touch with Jakarta said "big changes" may come in Indonesia in the next two days.

The sources reported that anti-Communist students who have been attacking government and Communist Chinese offices this week are getting ready for a "D-Day."

Sukarno held an emergency meeting Thursday with leaders of eight political parties and called the situation "grave," Radio Jakarta reported.

Some sources here said the army, which has tacitly supported the students, told Sukarno to get rid of pro-Peking Foreign Minister Subandrio by Saturday.

But another source said no ultimatum had been delivered yet. "When they give him this ultimatum, he is only going to have about three hours to act," the source said.

Court Asked to Re-consider

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Republican Party asked the state Supreme Court Thursday to reconsider its decision clearing three Democrats of contempt for burning election records in Madison County.

The court decided Feb. 21 that Charles Whorton Jr., Madison County clerk, and two Democratic members of the county election commission, Doyle Faubus and Afton Johnson, had followed correctly a state law in destroying the 1964 general election records.

The court had ordered earlier that these records be preserved because of a Republican suit seeking permission to see them.

Highway SOS

Everybody's road business is nobody's road business. That 5-miles of neglected road between Saratoga and the Millwood Dam area is proof. Two counties have something at stake there, but the state is the likely agent responsible for its future. And with the dam dedication only months away in June, there were no signs of action around Saratoga.

County Judge Jones Floyd, with about a half-mile of county road involved, put in a call to Highway Commissioner John Harsh at Magnolia Monday, in an effort to expedite some road work between Saratoga and State Highway 355 and the dam site. Commissioner Harsh promised to see that action was taken promptly.

The lines for Howard and Hempstead counties meet on the road to the dam, and on the Ashdown side of the dam is a completed State Highway 32. The state is considered the likely party responsible for linking State Highways 32 and 355 with a paved state highway from Saratoga to the dam. A highway has been built across the top of the dam.

The Saratoga road will furnish access to the picnic and fishing areas as well as serve as a route from Saratoga through to Ashdown, and providing a third route to Texarkana from Mineral Springs and Nashville.

Engineers have completed paving of some two miles of highway from the Saratoga side of the dam, but from there the going is rough, and all on a dirt road except for a worn-out mile stretch of asphalt.

Commissioner Harsh said there were some Hope residents asking for construction of a highway from the dam straight out to State Highway 355 between Saratoga and McNab, which would mean a tourist bypass of Saratoga.

Some 18 months ago the Nashville Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club members had asked Commissioner Harsh to aid in getting the Saratoga-Millwood road taken into the state system and paved. — Nashville News PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — Sam Boyce, 34, the Young Democratic Clubs of Arkansas president rumored as a possible gubernatorial candidate, unleashed another attack on Gov. Orval Faubus here Thursday night.

He asked if the state is operating under "the rule of law" or the "cult of an individual" in a speech before the Paragould Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Boyce, from Newport, is 3rd District Prosecutor. He said the rule of law "means that a single man or group of men do not rule but that, in the words of our state motto, 'The People rule.'"

"It means that we will follow certain accepted and agreed-upon procedures throughout society—in changing laws, in the disposition of criminal offenses, in the execution of government at all levels of society," he said.

He criticized Faubus for such things as using $20,000 in state funds to pay the debts of the private Arkansas Horse Show Association, extending the period for buying car licenses, and appointment of legislators to commissions and boards.

Helicopters Defy Guns to Rescue GIs

By THOMAS A. REEDY
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Marine helicopters flew under Communist guns today to rescue 59 more survivors of the fallen Ashau Special Forces camp on the Laotian frontier.

Five of those rescued in the daring flights were crewmen of two Marine choppers shot down Thursday during a dramatic evacuation of 69 wounded in the final hours of the 39-hour battle before a North Vietnamese regiment overwhelmed the garrison.

The rescued Marine airmen included the commander of the helicopter squadron. He was last seen Thursday running for a bunker with a machine gun in his arms. The others were Vietnamese and Montagnard troops, including three women dependents who live at the isolated outpost.

Despite their victory at Ashau, 360 miles north of Saigon, the Communists avoided any new action, though Allied forces tried to force them into combat. Terrorism, however, continued in the Saigon area.

3 Convicted for Murder of Malcolm X

NEW YORK (AP) — After deliberating more than 20 hours, a Supreme Court jury has convicted three men of first-degree murder in the assassination of black nationalist leader Malcolm X.

Only five silent spectators were seated in the heavily guarded courtroom when George Carter, the Negro foreman, read the verdict at 12:20 a.m. today.

The case had gone to the jury of three white women and nine men, including three Negroes, on Wednesday afternoon after an eight-week trial.

Highlighting those proceedings was the dramatic courtroom confession of Talmadge Hayer, 24, one of the convicted men. Reversing earlier testimony in which he had sworn he was innocent, Hayer admitted taking part in the killing.

But Hayer, of Paterson, N.J., indicted under the name Thomas Hagan, sought to exonerate the other two defendants, Norman 3X Butler, 27, and Thomas 15X Johnson, 30, both of the Bronx.

Faubus Talks for Poverty Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus said here Thursday that a combination of the federal antipoverty programs and the Elementary and Secondary School Act had produced a profound change in Arkansas education opportunities.

Faubus strongly endorsed several federal programs in an appearance before a House Poverty subcommittee in support of the administration's antipoverty program.

The governor was particularly enthusiastic about the Head Start program for preschool children and the Neighborhood Youth Corps.

He said 85 per cent of the 12,000 youths enrolled in the Youth Corps, which provides jobs in public agencies, saved their money and continued on in high school or college.

"For the first time in my lifetime—in the state's history—a chance to go to school—and to stay there without being forced out by economic conditions," Faubus said.

He said the poverty program was successful in Arkansas and should be continued.

Rabbi Shot by Man Dies in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Rabbi Morris Adler, 59, spiritual leader for most of the Detroit area's 85,000 Jews, died today, almost one month after he was shot in the head by a member of his congregation.

A spokesman at Sinai Hospi where the rabbi had lain after he was shot Feb. 12 said Adler died "due to complications of his prolonged coma."

Rabbi Adler had been unconscious since shortly after he was shot by Richard Wisnietzky, 23, Detroit, during services at Shaarey Zedek Synagogue in suburban Southfield.

Wisnietzky, who shot himself an instant after shooting the rabbi, was shot by police.

Wisnietzky, who had undergone psychiatric treatment shortly before his death, criticized the congregation as "a travesty and an abomination," just before shooting the rabbi.

Polaris Sub to Be Launched

GROTON, Conn. (AP) — One of the last two Polaris submarines to be built for the Navy will be launched April 23 at the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp.

The craft, the Francis Scott Key, is the 40th in the Navy's projected fleet of 41 Polaris submarines. The last one will be the Will Rogers, scheduled for launching this summer.

YD Group at Springdale Gets Okay

SPRINGDALE, Ark. (AP) — The charter applications of 20 Arkansas Young Democratic Clubs got the green light for approval Thursday from the YD's Fair Practices Committee.

The committee recommended that 10 others not be chartered until the groups hold new organizational meetings.

In the case of the Conway County YD application, the committee said, more investigation will be needed before a recommendation can be made.

The committee said its investigation of the challenged applications revealed that the proposed clubs were on both sides of the YD dispute.

"There were anti-Boyce and anti-Faubus applications challenged," said Jim Blair, chairman of the committee.

Sam Boyce, current YD president, is a critic of Gov. Orval Faubus.

The committee's recommendations are not binding on the YD's Executive Committee, which makes the final charter decisions.

Arnold Makes Protest to Remarks

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Richard S. Arnold of Texarkana, a candidate for 4th District congressman, lodged a protest with the Agriculture Department Thursday over a presidential advisor's remarks.

Arnold asked Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman to repudiate a statement by Gardner Ackley, an economic affairs advisor. Arnold said Ackley said on a television show that the federal government was planning to sell surplus corn on the open market to bring down the price of food.

Interest Rate Hike by Banks for Second Time

NEW YORK (AP) — Many major banks across the nation are raising the minimum interest rate on short-term business loans from 5 to 5½ per cent, an Associated Press survey shows.

It is the second rise in the prime interest rate in three months. Last Dec. 6 the rate increased from 4½ to 5 per cent.

Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York was the first to increase its rate Thursday. Word quickly spread through financial circles and within hours banks in widely scattered parts of the country announced similar increases.

"Because of the continuing heavy demand for credit, we are raising our minimum rate to 5½ per cent, effective immediately," said D.C. Sutherland of the Bank of America in San Francisco. The bank is the world's largest.

The stock market, which had been rallying strongly, declined sharply and prices closed slightly lower Thursday.

Although the interest rate boost is for business firms, its effect will be felt widely. It will mean a higher cost of doing business, which will be passed on to the customer.

Ultimately it could mean higher rates on consumer loans for such things as automobiles and appliances.

Other cities where banks have announced the rate include: Atlanta, Indianapolis, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, Richmond and Norfolk, Va., and Los Angeles.

Congress Speeds Means to Cut Red Tape to Start Flow of $12.8 Billion to Asia

By HARRY KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee approved without change today President Johnson's request for $13,135,719,000 in emergency funds, all but a minor fraction earmarked for military and economic operations in Southeast Asia.

WASHINGTON (AP) — After handing President Johnson three victories in the Viet Nam debate, Congress speeds up its machinery again today to slash some red tape to start $12.8 billion flowing toward East Asian operations.

To pave the way, the House Appropriations and Rules Committees called meetings today to approve the big Viet Nam appropriations measure and clear a parliamentary obstacle in the way of the House acting on it Tuesday.

The problem is that the money bill includes the foreign aid and military funds that have not yet been authorized — although Congress began moving in that direction Thursday.

The Rules Committee was expected to hand down a ruling permitting a vote on the appropriation regardless of whether the authorization is signed by President Johnson by next Tuesday.

After weeks of sometimes draggy debate, Congress escalated its Viet Nam operations with these results Thursday: — Senate and House conferees bandaged up the administration's battered tax bill and restored it to the full $6 billion in additional revenue Johnson had requested to finance the fighting. Final votes are expected by the President's deadline of next Tuesday.

—The House and then the Senate completed action and whipped to the White House a bill authorizing $4.8 billion in new battlefield funds.

—On an 82-2 vote the Senate approved and sent back to the House the measure authorizing $415 million in extra foreign aid funds to be pumped into the economies of Viet Nam, Laos, Thailand and the Cominchan Republic.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee heard an Asian affairs expert predict that Red China would fight to preserve North Viet Nam's Communist regime and would oppose any plan to set up a unified Viet Nam as a Southeast Asia buffer state.

Corporations Lose Charters

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Secretary of State Kelly Bryant said Thursday that 480 corporations had lost their Arkansas franchises for not paying 1965 franchise taxes.

Bryant said the revocations were ordered in a proclamation by Gov. Orval Faubus. Forty-nine of the charters belonged to foreign corporations doing business in the state.

$200,000 for Tech School Here Approved

The Defense Industrial Equipment Center at Memphis, Tenn., has approved the loan of a approximately $200,000 of machine and equipment for the Red River Vocational Technical School at Hope. Two departments will be outfitted by the equipment, machine shop and welding.

The DIEP Center, a division of the federal government has made arrangement for J. W. Rowe, Director of the school, to meet with its director in Memphis March 22 to select the equipment to be used in the Hope facility.

An agreement was signed by the school and federal authorities whereby machinists, plant maintenance mechanics and welders will be trained in the school and with this loaned equipment.

Johnson Gets $1 Billion Back in War Tax Bill

By EDMOND LE BRETON
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson was assured of his $6-billion tax program today as House and Senate leaders moved to complete action quickly on a compromise version meeting administration specifications.

Passage was assured. Senate and House conferees Thursday ditched most of the changes the Senate had made in the measure that would have reduced its net yield to the Treasury by $1 billion or more.

However, a limited program to blanket some 300,000 old persons into Social Security was included in the final version.

Major provisions reinstated recently cut excise taxes on cars and phone calls, and speed up collection of personal and corporate income taxes.

A revised withholding plan by which the amounts taken out of paychecks will more closely match tax bills remains in the bill with only minor modifications from the administration recommendation. It will become effective in May, bringing generally lower withholding for low-income taxpayers and somewhat higher withholding for those in middle and upper brackets.

Both branches of Congress planned final votes by Tuesday, meeting the March 15 deadline requested by the President. The Senate may act Monday, Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., of the Senate Finance Committee said.

The $6-billion tax boost — $1.2 billion in this fiscal year and $4.8 billion in the year starting July 1 — is designed to help finance the Viet Nam war and also dampen any inflationary tendencies.

The Senate had voted to reduce sharply the tax rollback by limiting it to long-distance calls. But the conferees agreed to drop this amendment. The telephone excise tax, accordingly, will revert to 10 per cent from 3 per cent.

The other major revenue-affecting amendment was a Senate rider that would have given Social Security benefits to 1.8 million persons over 70 who had not contributed to the system. This would have cost the Treasury $790 million.

The conference instead devised a plan for persons 72 and older. The number of beneficiaries was further reduced by eliminating those with federal, state or local government or railroad retirement pensions or receiving welfare payments.

Moisture to Gradually Increase
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gradually increasing moisture in the air will be lifted to cloud level and from rain for most of the state by Saturday, the U.S. Weather Bureau said today.

Showers were expected to spread over the northwest half of the state tonight and over the remainder of the state Saturday, the bureau said.

Indications are that the rain will end in Western Arkansas late Saturday and over the state by Sunday, when clear skies are predicted.

Temperatures will remain generally mild through the weekend, the bureau said, with daytime temperatures in the 60s and 70s. Overnight low readings in the 50s are predicted.
